To Whom This May Concern:

Rosanne Gulisano owns her own business, Lifestories – Creating a Memoir, through which she offers workshops on personal history writing. As a member of the Lifelong Learning Institute (LLI) at Waubonsee Community College, she conducted classes on personal memoir writing on two occasions in 2005 and 2006. The LLI is an open membership organization for adults age 50+ focusing on college level learning. The members plan, lead and participate in courses and study groups. Because Rosanne received such positive student evaluations from her classes, I referred Elgin Community College to her when they consulted me about a workshop leader for their adult writing program. Rosanne went on to work with Elgin Community College, and fulfilled their expectations.

I am happy to recommend Rosanne Gulisano. Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,
